

Coodie Cash ?

1-8-12

It's recently accured to me how frustrating it is to find a place to buy books. Since Barnes & Noble quit dealing with us, I think it's because they finally realized they suck. Powell's quit all mail correspondence which left us inmates to our own devices, high and dry. I've been scouring yellow pages and legal beagle news letters for places. Most never write back. Those that do are usually half staffed and half assed. Everyone just seems to be full of excuses. Why? What is so unacceptable about our buisiness? I put it to anyone who is reading this whiny rant to come forward and help. I've got cash to spend, I would just like someone to take 10 minutes to goto Powell's online and spend my money. My family does what it can but that only goes so far. I'll even pay a percentage. Why not? It's trivial sure, but it's a reminder of what we got coming when we leave here. Anyways, whatever, wah & Happy New Years! Hope the Mayan's are wrong, there's too many books out there for me left to read. Til next time "Turn the Page" Bob Seiser
