

Continue dancing

Timber wolves bend upward
Casting eerie howls through dense pines
Hidden treasures take in the Appalachian Mountains
Pilaging under the lunar moon
A line when sleep is given to listening
And feeding or being fed on
Through out the night
Timber wolves continue dancing
While wind sweeps though the
Leaving the night chilled

By: James Collins