I received your comments on 1-11-12 - mail sometimes takes a little while to get to here

Thank you for your comments. I am glad you like and enjoyed reading my poems and other writing. If I made you smile and enjoy your day a little more with my rambling then I am smiling and hope you will continue to read my poetry and short stories. I try to put something new on my blog page at least once a month, more when I heard back from someone. I'll try to answer all comments - at least with a hello in Irish Soup, unless they are just negative/hurtful for the sake of being negative and hateful - keep on smiling as I will continue to write and draw and your comments mean a lot to me.

Bless you

Irish Soup
