

"Who is she?"

By: Ceso Sprewell Nasir Wali Muhsin

I'm overwhelmingly in love with her, she's the essence of my claim soul and I need her as if the marrow of my bones. When we kiss it's soft and long, sweet and neat, she's true love between the sheets. As I hold her sometimes tenderly sometimes tight, I could feel the tears welling up in my eye becuz it's like paradise as she blows my mind and although I don't know her, never saw her before nor have I ever even touched her, she's there. There in my sleep, in my sheets, in my arms, and in my dreams. We're together at the malls, the plays, the carnivals and the shows; we're together mixing scents, herbs and spices on the stove. When we're washing and drying dishes in the sink she touches me and I tweak, my heart jumps, it skips a beat. But and yet again I've never seen her, touched or even smelled her soft skin before. I don't even know where she's at, where she'll be or if we'll ever even meet but she's beneath the veil this I know, she's chaste and statuesque from the top of her head down to the bottoms of her pretty feet. I moan with lust and love for her; I'm just for her. She's as of now my virtual reality, my wife with humbling personality. Tall, short skinny or thick that's not where my mind is but whoever she is and wherever she's at I need her love, her touch, style and grace because she keeps my heart at a steady pace.

Who are you??????

P.s. Whoever and wherever you are my love I "WILL" find you and will make you the Queen of my heart and soul, you will be pleasantly and happily in love this is for sure so if you are or know of a Queen for me PLEASE contact or have her contact me immediately.

I am: Nasir Wali Muhsin
