

First Time Here? Read This!

I recently asked my cousin Justin to try to contact a bunch of people from my past. I also regularly tell anyone I can about this site and tell anyone who already reads it, to tell others. So this is a message to anyone who is new to this site.

First of all, thanks for checking it out. You may have questions about how I ended up where I am, what's going on with me, or about anything at all. I'd love to answer them. Most questions about me can be answered by reading my profile. My mailing address is also on there. You can also get a lot of insight into my life and the person I've become by reading Change, my first blog post, as well as a number of others I've posted. But most of all, I'd love to hear from you. There are three options for that:

- 1) You can respond to one of my stories here and I will write back on this site. That's fine, just know that all of our interaction is public.
- 2) You can post a response here and include a mailing address. I will send you a response ASAP.
- 3) You can just write me at the mailing address on the profile.

I mostly do this to give some people who know me a better insight into what is going on with me. I'm not just wasting away in prison. Actually, I can honestly say my life is more rewarding in some ways today than it has ever been. I'm definitely more at peace than ever before. But I also do this to meet new people and/or reconnect with old friends. So please, if you have taken the time to read this, I want to hear from you.

until next time...
