

o.k. ..
hear me out

I found myself in a conversation and the person I was talking to asked me a question. And every time I tried to answer their question I was interrupted or they tried to over talk me with a loud tone. Instantly the conversation went to a debate where the louder they became the more they thought their point made more sense.

I realized I was entertaining a conversation or debate with someone who was a poor communicator and the talk in and of itself was senseless because that person only wanted to hear himself speak.

I've come to realize some people ask questions only looking for one answer or to intentionally be in opposition to your views. They intentionally like to create or perpetuate drama or debates just for the hell of it. Many of these people don't listen are close minded, ignorant, and terrible to engage conversation with..... However, if your bored they can be entertaining I suppose ( H A H A ).

I try to make it my business to listen, be responsive, open minded, and interactive in most conversations I'm in. Being able to communicate is very important on many levels and you'd be surprised by how many people suck at it.

Please let me know how you feel about this.

I didn't see

I didn't hear you

I didn't say anything

Questions?

How do you deal with those you find it hard to communicate with?

Do you communicate well? [Don't lie- smile]
