Big violation!!! How are you going to use a Yankee tag name on my blog site???

Seriously, though, it was great to hear from you. Yes, I get any response that is put on here. Usually within a few days. I try to answer everybody as soon as I can. So please, write again and tell me how things are going for you.

Thanks for the responses. Yes, sister Ann and company got us. The production seems to be coming together nicely, though we've all almost killed each other on several occasions. Ah, the stress of the theater. Alex is doing great as Jesus. His conversion and walk has been so fun. He'll be confirmed this summer. He'll be great as Jesus...during our Christmas performance he got thrown right up into the front row with Sister Ann and did great. He wanted to know all about "Cuddles" when he heard you wrote.

I'm really glad we helped you make your return before you left. I was hoping to get to Carlos too, but ran out of time. Any word on him?

All my best for now.

Keep dancing??? HaHa. That still sounds weird to me. But NO! My dancing days are over as soon as this play is done. I can't wait to get it over with.

I will keep praying though. That is going well. I tell people regularly that my return to the church is what will actually give me a chance at being a happy person out there so I just have to hold on to it.
