Thank you for your response to my post. I had a okay birthday on the 7TH. Even though I'm 53 years old - I feel like I'm 20 years old (like the saying goes "your only as old as you feel") except for the pain in my left knee. I've talked to a lot of older people in their 70's & 80's & asked them how they have so much energy for their age & they all would tell me - they feel young inside & always keep exercising/moving, to stay young - so I do the same. A lot of people say I look a lot younger than I am - some have said I look only around 35 years old. ☺

I do keep in contact with most of my family members & friends. I lost my dad when I was 20 years old & lost 4 of my brothers before I was born. I lost my twin brother around 4 years ago. I lost my mother, a sister & a brother in the same year about 1 1/2 years ago. I try to keep in contact with my brothers & sisters that are left. I write them every month but they don't like to write letters, so that's why I post my letters on my blog & I gave them all my "URL". Also I'm hoping other friends I have lost contact over the years may see my post & contact me.

My old cello is still here. My best friend here Eugene Flock, goes back to court soon & when he comes back, we are going to try to be celloes. He's a Christian too. ☺ He's a real nice guy, has a great sense of humor & a great heart.

Take care & write back. Thank you again for your response. My prayers are with you. God Bless You. ☺
