Look Out! Law-Abiding Citizens... with

Look out! Law-abiding citizens... with
Their eyes closed, are marching stiff-legged, again,
On a mission to cleanse sin from the Heathen,
Which has us few hearted fearful for our kin;

For those good citizens swing a wide scythe,
And for those dancing with shadows, they've a yen.
They hate all those romantics who've chosen
T' live contrary t' their cold, sterilized myth

— That people must be, can be, perfect — and Fear a flood of flesh and blood, blooming, that'll
Infect them w' th' disease of living, feeling.
Against this terrible foe they battle,
Millions and millions of them dying
Spiritually, by their own boney hand.
