

Bobby Brown

I recently seen on the news that Bobby Brown was pulled over for a broken tail light then end up failing a sobriety test resulting in his being charged with a D.U.I. I thought to myself . . . is anyone trying to help Bobby Brown overcome his demons?

I've learned the hard way that change only comes to those who want it themselves so I think ultimately Bobby Brown will have to want to change on his own. However, those around him need to at least steer him in the right direction.

I for one would hate to see what happened to Whitney Houston happen to Bobby Brown because they both deserve more than death. "Please" take the time to reflect on who you know personally right now today in this moment ~~one~~ that is on a road to destruction . . . call them, text them, or go see them and say "I'm here for you!"

Too many people are being lost in self destruction and we don't know how to help them or if we can help them. I just want to say Bobby Brown or anyone feeling like destroying their life is better than living it . . . I'm here for you and I'm sure that if you search your heart you'll find there's a better way.

Please share this blog with others: <http://betweenthebars.org/blog/2042>

Write me directly At:

✉ Marcus T. Rogers #373571
WSPF | P.O. Box 9900
Rosedale, WI 53805