Hello, again: I thought I should just speak a little more about myself. I am 5'7, Born 7-25-1988, I am Latino but don't speak a lick of Spanish lol I was Born in Texas and have been to California, Hawaii, Georgia, Virginia, and Louisiana I felt more at home at California, Twenty-Nine Palms. The desert nights are quite, calm, and cool. I like how the moon is so big at night You remember my last Blog entry right well, Looks like Sarahs getting married! T-T Yeah congrats to her! Im glad. She found someone I got too much time for her to be writing. But at less were still friends. I ended up writing a speech for my folks to read at the reception. I wished them both happy lives. Is it strange to think this way? They say if you love something you let it go right? It Like what Moto Hagiyō said once. "Meeting people is Gods doing, but parting is what humans do themselves." Yeah Im hurting some but time heals all wounds. So they say. 770 on another note I am finally on the 8th chapter of one of the books Im writing, Yeah! I took forever to get over my writer Block. So now that thats about done thats a total of 20 different chapters or so. Is there a way to sale a book while in prison? Oh does anyone know an Anime called "Addicted to curry" Its a must read if you like to cook! Well I cant think of anything else to write so till next time.

I don't know what it is but it's just heavy what goes on in here. Like you can be having fun one minute and the next you're fighting to stay alive. Someone asked me once if I liked it here... The Zleck kind of question is that? "Course not! I Don't like it in here." "But you do," he said "You do like it here, otherwise you would be trying to get out." "What are you talking about, how?" "By Studying the Law, that way you can get out or at least get time off. But all you do is write and sleep, so you like it here that's fine." I told him I didn't, he said I did. It got me so mad I said that not everyone is the same. That Studying the Law was confusing. Plus Studying was never a strong point for me. "Excuse me," he said and I agreed. I told him that yes I missed the out side and everything that came with it. Family, Technology, Food. I missed it all. "Then why aren't you trying to get out?" I told him (Not that it was any of his business) That it was because I was afraid of the out side. He was puzzled by my statement. Here's the thing, outside is just as scary as it is in here. Why? Say I get out and I wanted a job. They see my Criminal background, I'm out a job. Now, all someone has to do is say "I saw him with..." or "I saw him here or there", "I think I saw...", "He did this or that" and Bam! I'm back in here. Sure I don't need to fear as much for my life as I would out there. But, it's the thought of coming back that gets me. That's what terrifies me. That's what I told him.

If you have any questions please feel free to ask and I will get to you as soon as I can.
