

Assistance With Typing ^{part 2} Part 2

I don't have a typewriter (Saying typewriter sounds so prehistoric - HA-HA), So I have to usually give someone something like stamps and what not to type my posts for me. There aren't many guys with typewriters, so I'm limited in who I can ask and should they go to the hole, I'm burnt up.

It would be nice if I had something out there willing to help me out by typing my posts. I could mail a few at a time to be typed then you could just send them back to me to mail into the blog.

If you have the time to do this for me and you're willing to do so then please reach out to me, and I thank you in advance for your assistance. If you wanna help but don't have the skills or time to type for me then a typewriter would help "A LOT". It must come from these vendors:

Any and all assistance is highly appreciated and I'm always grateful for your comments, thoughts, opinions, and support.
