To attend or not to attend the Kangaroo Redneck D.R. Court Monday? I'm not sure. There really is no due process. I already know the verdict. "Guilty based on the statement of C.O. Aaron D. Stokes and C.O. Carson and Sgt. Chandler who stated they found a cigarette in inmate Clark's cell light." That's the way it is 99% of the time in that Kangaroo Redneck D.R. Court. The Lt. and Classification Officer whose part of this stinking no good Administration isn't going to give me a break. Let Barry Reddish and Col. John Godwin find out I got a break in the D.R. Court, and they (the D.R. board) would get their ass chewed out. I couldn't even get Mrs. Mahoney to believe that I didn't threaten staff or have razor blades in my cell. And the only way I can prove this is bull shit ass retaliatory behavior by childish juvenile ass Administrator's is if I can get these sorry no good Institutional inspectors to get off their ass and follow Fla. statute 944.31 and conduct their job as is required by the law. That's going to be hard to do. What I'm thinking is to go on a hunger strike off to bring attention to this and force the Inspector General's to get off their ass follow the damn law and bring an end to these idiotic moron's and this childish ass retaliation 😊 you see why they hate me so bad. 😊 well their going to hate me a whole lot more. Because on my blogs, I'm through pulling punches. I'm going to take them to the ringers, screw them, and their childish, adolescent ass behavior!" To the warden and the rest of his do boy Flunkies I say to you, "Grow the hell up!" you read this and don't like what I got to say, what I have to is "The truth hurts don't it?" you wouldn't have to worry about these blogs if you'd act like the professional you suppose to be, instead of this childish ass tyrant that enjoys inflicting hardship on men who are under your care. It's killing you that you can't control what I write on these blogs or to your superior's about your malicious vindictive childish ass attitude. you come in here causing this confusion, so you only have yourself to blame, short of killing me, you can't stop me, I am my own man and I'll die for what's right, and what's right is exposing what's wrong here. Will I attend Barry's Kangaroo red neck DR court? we will see, I'm still undecided, although I'm quite aware the process is a sham. I may attend just to entertain myself and blog about the process. I got two more days to think about it. No doubt I'm doing 30 days in the hole and I'm going to blog about it the whole time. If you don't hear from me, it's cause they began throwing the mail away again. untill next time.

In peace and love
Ronnie
