

A Message To Matty P

Matty P -

Hope you'll see this before the Vermont City Marathon. Justin told me about the New Bedford Half. 1:06 - that's serious. I have the old New England Runner article that says your PR is 1:06:11. If that's the case, it's safe to say you are feeling all the way back and I hope big things are brewing on Memorial Day. Get me word ASAP!

I was telling a friend of mine who is in the Runners Club here about your results and about the upcoming race and he brought up an interesting point: Why the hell is it called Vermont CITY? I mean is there even anything in Vermont that qualifies as a real city?

Oh well, just wanted to let you know I'm rooting for you. You know you will never have a bigger fan than me so keep me updated. GOOD LUCK!!!

Until next time...
