- * I believe that Keefe Commissary Corp. (a part of Halliburton) is using illegal price increases on inmates. No inmate in any part of the country has won a lawsuit against Keefe on this issue. They typically charge between 50% and 150% higher prices for goods to prisoners — who earn abysmally low wages — one or two dollars per day.
- * I have HUGE problems with prison mail officers stealing, diverting, or destroying my mail. I would like a phone # I can call at "Between the Bars" to verify receipt of postings. We are allowed to buy phone debit credits.
- * I think there should be more public awareness of the tendencies of prosecutors to hide or destroy evidence rather than permit older serious convictions be overturned. This serves two functions for prosecutors: (1) That public confidence in the justice system is maintained. If serious cases are overturned, the public questions the legitimacy of the justice system. (2) It shields the prosecutors and the state from civil liability.
