

GOING BACK TO CALI

I was born and raised in California [Los Angeles / San Diego]. To this day I wonder how could I leave the beaches, palm trees, and good weather for Wisconsin [HA HA].

Throughout my life I've lived and traveled many places but it's looking like I might end up going back to Cali. My aunt has offered me a place to stay and a chance to start over essentially where my life began. I'm grateful for the opportunity and I'm excited as well.

I'll have to put in for an interstate compact and if it doesn't get approved I'll have to be here in Wisconsin. Most my time in Wisconsin has been behind bars so one can only imagine why I would want to leave this state.

I'm hoping that I get to go back to Cali or anywhere away from Wisconsin. As I get closer to getting out I simply hope for the best but always make preparation for the worst. Only time will tell I suppose. Until then I will keep you all posted. Ok!

Questions?

If you could start your life over where would you start it [which state]?

Have you ever been to California?

Contact me at:

<http://betweenthebars.org/blog/2042/marcus-t-rogers-jr>

Or write me at:

Marcus T. Rogers # 377571
WSPF/P.O. Box 9900
Boscobel, WI. 53805

<http://betweenthebars.org/blogs/2042/>