I am looking for someone to write as a friend. The truth of the matter is I am 61 years young this is a picture from 1987 and I haven't changed much no wrinkles; still have my hair and I attribute that to a life long regimen of daily work-outs.

I am 6'ft tall blue eyes and gray hair. I am not looking for a sugar momma as I take care of my own needs. I am looking for an older lady that might be lonely and could use a good friend to write and pour her heart out to. I have no-one in my life my ol lady passed away some years ago.

So ladies if you are interested drop me a line be glad to answer any and all questions.
