Jessica,

It's a pleasure to meet you. I'm not interested in a romance either. i just love meeting new people to see what they think of the world they live in. I don't mind answering any questions you may have, but I must be careful because what I say could effect my case.

I've been convicted of Arson/Murder and sentenced to be executed. I'm on death row. I'm in the middle of my last State Court appeal, then it's on to the Feds. Albeit, I stand convicted of a violent crime, I am not the true perpetrator of this horrific murder. I'm on my way to proving that I am innocent.

I wasn't able to win a not guilty verdict at my trial because I had an ineffective attorney who failed to investigate my case. Mountains of exonerating evidence wasn't uncovered or presented at my trial.

Prison. I could tell you a lot about the prisons I've been in, and give my opinion of it & the system. So ask what you wish. What you correspond thru this web site becomes a public record. I do have email, as well as this web site, and you can also write via US mail. I look forward to your correspondence.
