

Reach Out

Some say I'm like the Devil lost in the Night.
Trying to find an Angel to save my life.

Some say I'm not wired right because I get lost in my own thoughts where I find no peace of mind.

So I reach out throw this Blog, these words of Mercury to find some one to share thoughts of happiness and care.

But all I find is loneliness and despair.

And it makes me think some times no one in this World cares.

But I guess that's my cause to walk this World.

And never find an Angel to be mine.

And save me from my darkend abyss people call life.....

But for every one out there I really am looking for a girl or any one I can write that will write back as friends or whatever they want (LOL) I just really need some one to write
