

Type Writer

I'm sure the whole idea of using a typewriter sounds absolutely Prehistoric (HA HA). But outside Pencil and Pens the only means the prisoners in my state have of typing materials is with a typewriter... Yes they still make them (LOL).

I don't own one so I'm constantly paying someone to type my blog posts for me. Lately it's been hard to even find someone with a typewriter and if I do they charge an arm and a leg due to supply and demand.

I'm looking for someone out there willing to donate time in typing my posts for me or funds to get me a typewriter and ribbons.

Although I don't get many comments on my blog posts I enjoy writing them and they've helped me really look deep into who I am and what I think. I want to keep them coming and I'd prefer to type them because it looks better and I would love to improve my typing skills.

If you can assist me with time to type my posts for me then please write me immediately and I'll begin mailing them to you. If you can afford the funds to purchase me a typewriter here is the information to do so:
