

Rage!

6-19-12

You rage at your life
You hate all you know
Your reason to live
Was lost long ago
The anger you shed
Burns hot like the sun
The more that it's fed
The worse it becomes

Like spitting at the sun
Like spitting at the sea
The fact you're angry
Means nothing, you see

Both the wise man and fool
Can stop in their tracks
Change why they hate
And never look back

The blind rage that you feel
Wasted just you
Life isn't fair;
It's just up to you

Take what it gives
Give what it takes
But never forget
Your hate is your mistake
