Dear Lisa,

Thank you for reading my blog(s), and I hope that you enjoyed it, I try to write(blog) about subjects that affect myself, prisoners, and/or society as a whole. As a prisoner, we are usually silenced behind these walls. Having an avenue to express myself helps relieve some of the frustration of my incarceration.

And most importantly, thank you, for posting your comment(s). To know that my postings are actually been read means alot to me. I hope that you read some of my other writings and let me know what you think of those as well?

Respectfully,

Teze
