5-25-2012 Miss Me yet?

I've always had a Skill of finding fun in any Job...

If I can find fun in The Job, I work harder and the work is Done Better, with more Pride Taken in every second of It...

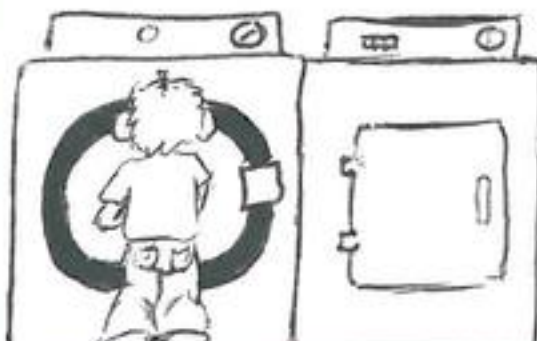

It also allows me to better relate to others, In Turn others like me more as an Individual and a person, and I'm less Likely to be forgotten.

So, anyway I Got a full Week in, and have 3 Double shifts in this Month, I might have enough for a Doughnut and Coffee this Month..

Did my laundry this morning. hate that part of the week.

I miss those Days when I was a child always Trying to build Some thing

My mother's husband Discouraged my Inventiveness Keeping me from reaching my full Potential early on.

for a while, I Believed it

I cant do it I'm too stupid

I Aint Good At any thing.

People Ruin Bright Kids that way

you ever just want to be alone for a while, but at that same Time every one wants your attention?

That is happening at this very moment...

I'm Trying to Draw my Dull ass life Story here! Lemme alone!

I had a dog once That was mentally Retarded...

Swear she was Part black Lab and Part meth Lab. 100% funny.

That Dog would make you Laugh until you Puke...

Then you'd Laugh some more...

Sure Do miss her

Senselessly Put Down for no more than Simply Being my Dog.

She'll come back one Day and bite'm on Their ass...

noone could be more Deserving than when I was a Kid All the Girls hung out at my house, They all wanted to be my friends.

I Didn't Complain though I Liked having all those friends even if they were Girls...

Here comes Some Change for a Change
