

* * * * I W A N T T O L O V E Y O U * * * *

I want to love you,
Like you've never felt before!
I need to love you, because I want to be loved.
I'd like to love you with all that I got;
But don't give me no reason to doubt you.
I know you can love,
And I know you seek love.
If we love, it will be dynamic.
Let our love be spectacular, and purposeful!
I understand that long-lasting love, and flame is hard work;
It can become, later a rocky road.
so I want to work hard to love you.
I feel in my being that you yearn for that divine love,
That you don't want to be rejected. No lip service!
To you, I want to be of service.
That is why I will be restless, till I've over flow your cup.
Myself, and I crave that exact, glorious love too.
And God knew that we both, in such a way, needed each other!
Cause we were both on a journey for love;
The mammoth love that run-over,
Pure, like a river of refined gold.
While no-one understand us,
We understand each other.
People looking for all kinds of "Love":
we are looking for pure and "True Love".
That's why I want to love and treat you good.
For this reason I'll search for new way to inflame our love.
I'll find way to keep your mind revolve around me.
My presence and essence, I want to be the sap of your mind.
Your grace and peace of mind, the sap of my mind.
Tis will be the life of our heart and soul,
And food for our thoughts and minds
That's the way I want to reminisce "Loving" you.
If afterward, I ever stopped loving you!