I have always wondered about my true meaning and the path I've taken. To be where I'm at in life, was it meant to be and things would have turned out the way they are no matter what choice I made or do I possess the power to change things?

Do I have a purpose or do I exist to just simply exist?
How do I obtain the knowledge to get answers for either?

 Please reach out to me at the address below to provide any answers, feedback, or suggestions. I'd gladly appreciate it!

Thank You and May God Bless!!
