Hello Readers

It's me again, sharing & seeking information that I can use in starting my new life. Since my last entry I've had my ups & downs, but I manage to weather the storm!! By-the-way, my PACKERS fail to finish the season strong!!

We will do better this season, mark my words. I remain on AC status for now but can be taken off at any time.

My ups are: speaking to one of the board members, who in turn agreed to speak on my behalf. Hearing from an old childhood friend after 15 yrs. He is married with a beautiful family. My downs: I didn't make it 12 months without a CR. I received mail from another inmate that was disturbing. I cut off all communication with that person. I'm not stuck on stupid because I have a bright future. My social skills aren't what they used to be. Since being in prison I tend to overthink before I speak. We can't express ourselves freely. When conversing with staff our speech is restricted. It's kinda like looking over your shoulder all the time. This is one reason I try to reach out to anyone willing to correspond with a prisoner.

I enjoy speaking open & freely to individuals beyond these ~~my~~ walls.

Is there someone out there that enjoys cooking? I have a passion for cooking, especially meat! I want to learn as many recipes as possible. Grilling, Roasting, Frying Beef, Pork, Fish, Chicken, Turkey, Lamb.

I need different recipes on Grilling meat. Perhaps someone out there is willing to share their recipes.

Have a nice day and hope to hear from you soon.

Respectfully
