

Lillie (ms.k.) Branch-Kennedy:

July 17, 2012

How are you (ms.k.)? I appreciate your response to me from my blog on AMC 2012. There is something so empowering when someone reaches back to us from the outside. You agreed that media is a powerful tool. But what's my powerful then that (ms.k.) is the love, unity, and solidarity of good people like you. Who are unafraid to let your voice be heard for those transformational new men like myself. Who are conscious, articulate, but economically indigent without the means to impact change on a grand scale. Your words were very inspirational to me. I am glad the blog was also motivational to you. I welcome you to write so that I may give you greater access to my world on the inside. I want to be an inside voice for your organization. You may share my blog with others. My connection to you makes my voice matter. Please send me your contact information. Peace & Blessings.

your Comrade,

Bro. Khalilani Malik Khaldun 874304
(Leonard McQuay) 6CH117-2C
PCF 4490 W. Reformatory Rd.
Pendleton, In. 46064