

Dear Reader's

7-30-12

-My Life, Something Crazy and always something I wish I could just change. I sit in prison for the rest of my life, I never ever thought I'd be in the spot I'm in now cause, I'm really a good and nice person. Well, sometimes the life we should live isn't always easy or clear to reach.

Sometimes we use the saying - it's cause of where I'm from - But, that's Bull! it's the choice you make cause you, me we all always have a choice.

It's all comes down to how strong you are mentally.

anywho, this isn't easy at all no matter how ~~many~~ many friends you have inside this hell your soul just doesn't belong and once your heart and soul starts working against you while your sitting in your cell or in the hole alone you begin to thing like a man or just with bitter sence than you used to get here. Life is crazy cause, so much stuff happens for us in our everyday life and we don't even see it or we do and act like we don't then we regret it later.

Don't know if that made any sence, But, sometimes we just need to walk a little slower cause,

where were going isn't going any place.

Well, I love to talk more so if you like to read my feeling's and thought's then stay tun I'll be Back soon okay

-Thomas!
