

8/13/12

Hello!

Well I Hope you found my last well my first words ok But, you need To know this isnt easy writeing my thoughts or feelings on paper But I guess the thought of just knowing someone is Reading my words I guess its Cool... Today is another stress ful Day for me, this place isnt good for Anyone There's fights every Day for stupid Reason's like over a seat in the chawhall or over A stamp or Being placed in A cell with someone else you dont know. So you can under stand How we seem To Be always mad or over stressed out I keep Reading the Bible Cause its the only peace I could find in this place.

My property is all over the prison Cause, the people thats Running it just mix your things with other people things. Doing life in prison for me, all that I do each and every day is start over every day. Nothen ever changes for me. its Hard when your alone with no one To talk To or thats there To Help you get the things you need. I'm not talking of what you want But, what you need! Anyways, like I said its not easy writeing like this so, I really Hope you stick around And continue to Read me or whatever.

until next time — Thomas AKA TomTom 🙄