

Things I Need In Medium Security Prison

Those who follow my blog know that I've been moved to a medium security prison. Upon my arrival here there were things I couldn't have and things I could have but didn't own. Please take a look at the following information and if you can assist me with anything please do so and leave your purchase on the comment section so others know not to get the same items should they choose to order as well. I thank you in advance for your kindness and support:
