

"Female Guard Visually Raped me"

August 2012 I was admitted into (CTC) our Prisons medical hospital in Corcoran, California. I was taken there for evaluation.

I immediately couldn't help notice the filthy conditions that existed there. You'd expect a hospital to be immaculent. But this story is not about cleanliness, it's about disrespect to male inmates in general. One in particular incident stands out more than other days that I stayed in the prison hospital.

I was escorted by a female guard to an area that inmates shower in - There were "2" separate shower rooms with windows and a tray slot in the door. Once she locked me in there, she ordered me to take off my boxers and give it to her. I immediately stripped and handed her my shorts. Ms. [REDACTED] stood there and sized me up and then got me a tooth brush and tooth powder. I thought it was a bit strange because she stood outside the door watching me shower - When I had finished she popped the tray slot and hands me a towel all while she watched. When I was dry she asked for my wet towel and I embarrassingly handed it to her. Then she gave me some clean boxers and smiled.

Male nudity is nothing new in prison - But imagine this would you want some strange female watching your father shower - That's what's in prison fathers & brothers exposed to female guards taunting them in their nudity. At Avenal a prison in California is all dorm living (minimum security) but they are treated worse than a high level security inmate. There is no modesty partitions, the showers are out in the open and female guards stationed on a podium no more than 5 feet from the showers. I'm sure these females don't consider themselves as perverts because they were hired into the Department. Such lewd behavior in the free world would warrant an arrest - CDC is not setting good examples and never does a logical option. No inmates get raped in showers that is a Hollywood concept. Rapes occur in cell block living. So why not put modesty walls in these shower areas, and why would women except working under such conditions - I believe that female guards like it because it empowers them in a safe environment while enjoying the sexual exploitations of nude males.
(Continued - "Visually Rape")

"Visually Raped"