

The Time has come

The time has come for me to stay

I love you more and more each day you smile when I'm with you you smile when I'm not you smile all through the days

At something that we've got

The love we share may come and go

But this one here will stay

Cause everytime you feel so Bad

There's something you can say

"I love you" are the words you'll say

And I'll say the same

Cause everytime you use these words

It won't feel like a Game
