

Never Find

I set thinking of all the things I look to find.
And then I think theres really nothing for me to look to find.
Because I'm Not looking to find any one to be mine for all of Time.

Because I know thats some thing I'll Never find in this life of mine.

And then when I do try to find some thing the less I find.

When all I look for is some one to write to and pass this endless Time.

But again thats some thing I'll Never find.

So still I set and think of all the thing I can only hope to find.

But will be mine only in some other life Time

I hope every one likes and understands this poem I'm trying to write. But its all true all I'm looking for is some one to write and draw for and pass time. And all I ask is for who ever I find is to write me back and may be send me photos every now and then. I really dont ask for any thing more then that. And I promise to write any one who writes me back.
Letter for letter. And if any one would like to see a photo of me they can go to Myspace.com and look up Netkiller 112. I should come up a friend made it for me to find a pen-pal. But it parent worked so I'm still looking. And hoping some one out there will change that if any one would like to write me my address is Joe Thibodeaux #1518549 == and I dont care about race
264 FM 3478 == and I will write over sea's
Huntsville, tx. 77320 == Thank every one for there time
