

S O F I N E

So what is this?
My eyes won't blink, they stuck on you,
I'm captivated by your moves.
Don't want to miss
The blessings of this optic view,
But that's my bad I thought you knew.

Caught in the midst,
Of contemplating opening words,
I'm careful about the way I feel.
Relationships don't take no potent miracle,
It's just simple as keeping it real.

But if I keep it real
I could never look into your eyes,
Then you could read my mind.
I'm thinking what I feel,
I'm feeling you're my every thought,
Cause, baby, you're so fine.

So fine, so fine, so fine.
