

#17

A QUESTION OF FAITH

I have chosen to take a break from writing about my legal problems, and write about my spirituality. Which happens to be profoundly more complicated to explain than my legal problems. Especially since like my Father God, and Brother Jesus I am not of this world. Yet, was predestined to be born in the flesh of this world to begin my spiritual awakening and sojourn. My trials and tribulations have been many, and continue as I keep my faith of my Father Gods will being done through my life. Which is something that has kept me in constant prayer in seeking answers as to why it appears I am unable to conform to the ways and laws of this world like those who openly profess my Brother Jesus Christ to be their Lord and Savior. This brings to mind how throughout my spiritual growth. The more diligently I have read my Fathers written word the Bible. The easier it has been for me to rightly divide His word of Truth, and keep the faith His will is being done. Right now as I sit here writing this blog piece from a prison cell on Florida's death row. I know in essence it is a testament of my spiritual oneness with God my Father, and Jesus my Brother. While the rest of my blog entries tell of the persecution I suffer at the hands of this worlds god. Formally known as Satan - the one who deceives the world through ministering the false light of Christ. Which is something my Brother Jesus prophesied about as He tells of turning many away who only professed to know Him. My question for this court of public opinion is: Who among you has the spiritual discernment to know I am spiritually one with my Father God, and Brother Jesus? As we are told to judge the spirit and not the flesh...

Respectfully,

Milo Rose