

Self Portrait 2012 me

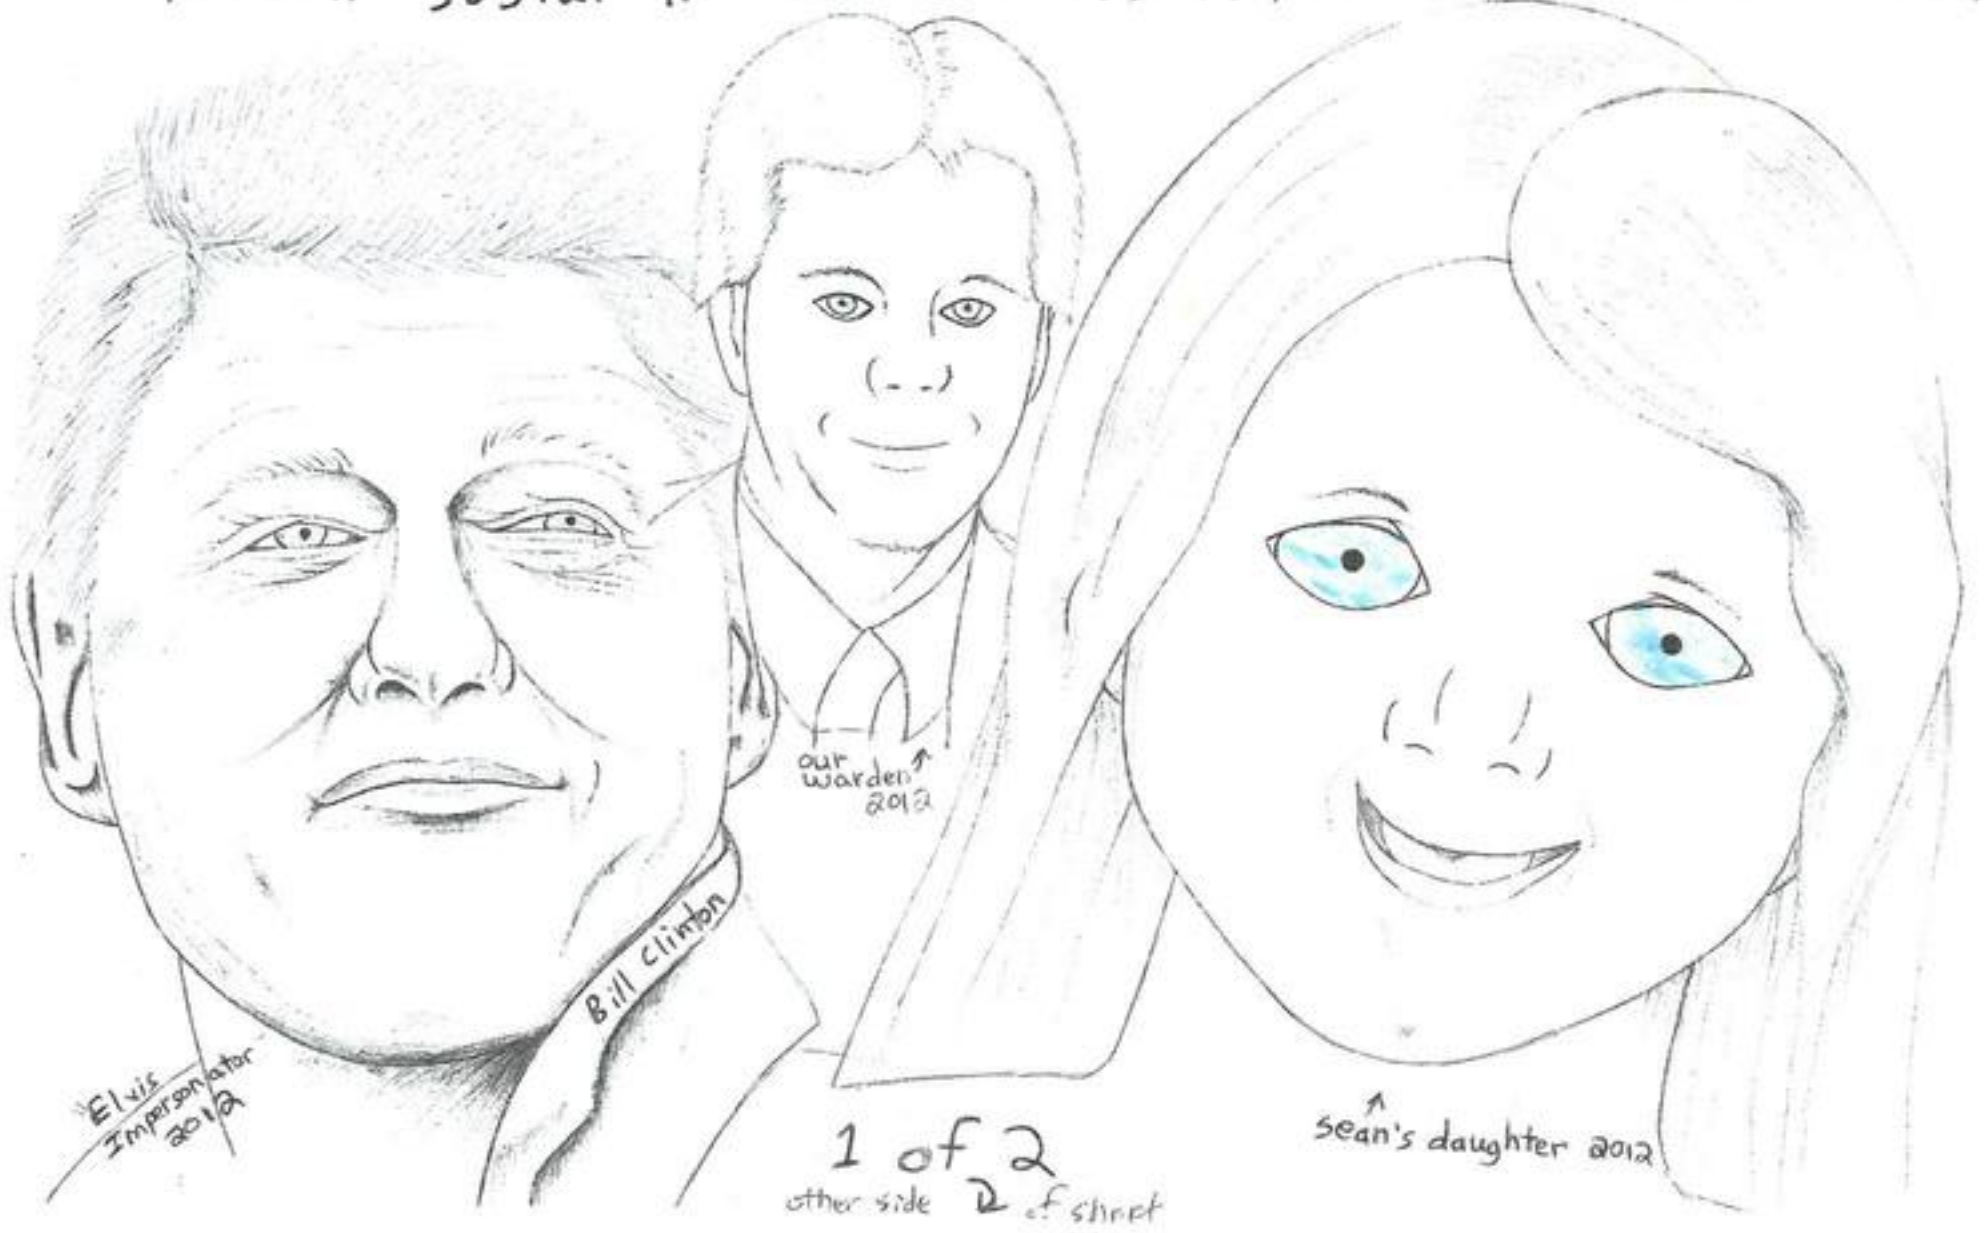

"Lurch" 2012 my friend

Sean Riker 2012 my brother

Portraits By Name

For details on getting yours, contact at:

N. Lindell # <http://betweenthebars.org/blogs/540/nathaniel-lindell/> 303724 P.O. Box 9900 Boscobel, WI 53805 - SASE a must!

Bill Clinton

our warden 2012

Sean's daughter 2012

Elvis Impersonator 2012

1 of 2 other side 2 of street

"So, why did you draw all of these people?" you might be wondering.

First, of course, me - despite my Jack-o-lantern smile (not "meth mouth" - my upper teeth spread out 'cause my lateral incisors never sprouted + I was too poor for braces). I drew me so people'd know what I look like, as I can't get copies of prison photos, and the ones they take make me look like a "brain-eating convict", according to Sean.

Sean? He's got a blog here too, 15254/sean-riker/, I drew in, based on a photo of him from when he was in a Fed. prison, because it was a damn good photo, he's got a tragic life story that I greatly empathize with, and he's what Nicki in Australia would have me call a "right solid mate!" 😊

As for Lurch, he was my "cellie" before Sean; that is, Lurch was in the cell that led out into the small vestibule connecting our two cells to the hallway our cells were on. Lurch was an alright guy, funny, but not too quick upstairs. We are friendly + got along. I'm doing a case for him. Figured I'd draw him for practice and for his girlfriend.

Bill Clinton? The deluded "liberal" wrote an excellent autobiography, My Life, which debunked some misperceptions I had about his character + abilities, yet still reveals him to be blinded by his isms, as, maybe, we all are.

Our warden; I drew him because I could, and wanted you to see a deluded "conservative." In an article in the Boscobel Dial (see boscobeldial.net), he revealed in an article about him becoming warden that he's a Psych. major from University Wisc. - Madison (i.e. B.F. Skinner's stomping grounds), a church-goer, fitness fanatic, with a couple daughters and a wife. He looks kind, right? In his own mind, he is. In our reality, he cosigns staff's abuse, runs a mental-terrorism facility, and condones physical, sexual, and mental abuse on a daily basis.

Sean's daughter cleanses our palate. She's just too cute, so I drew her. Let's hope the world lets her continue being cute.... Hope ya like!