

I Think I'm Ready For Love

I've come to the point in my life where I realize I want to love and be loved by that special someone. My life has been complicated mainly due to my being unsure of who I was or what I stood for. Having had the time to really assess my life and the man I need to be in the world, I know that I want a woman to love, have a family with, and build memories with.

I'm certain this woman will know how to juggle chain saws, have bad hygiene, and...naw, I'm just joking (Ha Ha). Seriously though...I'm sure this woman will have a way of making me feel special, loved, respected, trusted, wanted, and desired. I take joy in being able to make her feel the same way.

At times I feel my past maybe too edgy for alot of woman and my circumstances (being in prison) maybe a huge turn off or let down so I don't anticipate to find that woman while i'm in prison. However everyday I dream of the life I'll live with this woman, who ever she is, once i'm out.

For those women who think men are just chasing the next woman or being a player, I sit here writing this to let you know there are men who want love as much as you do... I'm one of them.

Questions?

Have you ever been in love?

Whats "love" mean to you?

Do you dream of a loving relationship?
