

James

I loll half-asleep - sitting on the side of the bunk why did the rain start start and then just stop clouds are everywhere hiding the morning light

Thunder and lightning rolling across the hill where the castle sits.

I turn down the music to listen to the thunder to watch the lightning from a tiny cell window.

I see you in the darkness smiling back at me.
