

3iwg

(1)

4:34 P.M.
Fri
09/21/12

Venessa & G. ThinkB4U Act 1981,

I received your interesting post/comments. After thinking on it a bit, I thought I should send you a few good words. First of all, I apologise to you if I hurt your feelings. Because that was NOT my intent. What I wanted to do was talk, at length, on the subject. That was the reason I asked questions - that you did not answer. Just like I told your friend, every one that disagrees with you is NOT your public enemy #1.

One thing about myself is, I'm real. Some people in this world will tell you every single ounce of what you want to hear, but behind your back they abhor what you stand for. I'd rather have an amiable and genuine dialogue, than to be that way. IF... you are a lesbian, that's cool. That's your life. You want to know what I believe in? I believe in Polygamy. Before ~~1880's~~ the 1880's, Certain Societies around the world, Practiced organized Polygamy.

I mention it because I know that there are ALOT of people who are anti-polygamy. So, people will disagree. Since the last post I sent you, I've had the good fortune of talking to several homosexuals. And you want to know something? I learned a great deal. One thing I'll share with you; just like I said to them: How can you say I'm ~~homophobic~~ or anti-homosexual if, I've been taught - all my life - to be that way? You can't call it ignorance. That's not it. Bibles and Qur'ans are powerful. In order to push this new idea forward, you would have to illegalize religion - Don't you agree???. In the last 30 years U.S. prisons have been building more and more Solitary Confinement prisons. These prisons (Solitary Confinement) are driving human beings insane - literally.

(2)

What do you think about Solitary Confinement? Do you feel, like your friend, that people in prison
must (automatically) be guilty?

p.s.

were you born in 1981?

<http://betweenthebars.org/blogs/285>

CC: