

A Blog for a special friendship 10-4-2012 Why can't a lonely man such as myself find that special someone to love and care for.

A woman i can give my heart and soul too, who will treat this gift i am giving her, as i treat hers.

I know shes out there some where and that god sent down from the heavens above, my special angle.

A womans looks dont matter, her size does not matter and age dont matter as longs as she is an adult.

A womans smile that lights up the room matters to me, a good personality matters to me and a loving heart and soul that wants to build a special friendship and bond matters to me.

I know she is out there some where and i am calling out to her from my heart and soul to take that step and get to know me and you will not be disapanted and will not regret it i promise you that ☺. Ill be waiting smile

Sincerely
