DANGEROUS

10/1/12

I was (unfortunately) watching the CBS Evening News with Scott Pelley and they did a story about the Century movie theatre shooting and the guy who was doing a commercial asking Obama & Romney about gun control.

Good Gawd! I'm sorry you got shot but you are a moron. IF EVERYONE HAD REAL GUN RIGHTS — That sick dipfuck with the orange hair would never have got off more than one or two shots.

IF every adult in that theater was carrying a loaded firearm, when dipfuck stood up to shoot, 300 people would have been able to practice 'Gun Control' by wasting said orange-haired dipfuck. 'Gun Control' is being able to hit what you are aiming at.

Do you know how you came to LIVE IN COLORADO? Men who carried LOADED FIREARMS EVERYWHERE THEY WENT settled Colorado — when some dipfuck went shooting, the well-armed settlers practiced GUN CONTROL on the dipfuck — thus KEEPING THE PEACE, ending the crime problem and going happily about their settling routines.

Next time there is a home invasion, car-jacking, theater shooting, LAPD vs. Retarded Kid, Islamic wack-job in a pilot outfit, or whatever — ASK YOURSELF: Would that event have occurred if the dipfuck knew the people whose lives he wanted to ruin were well armed and willing to practice 'GUN CONTROL' on him? I think said dipfuck would not commit said crime.

Happy Thoughts —
