Hello Again World... I apologize for the delay, but as we all know life can sometimes get in the way of good intentions. I want to take a moment to give a huge acknowledgement to a young lady half-way around the world with a beautiful spirit. Hearing from you was the first time the sun came out in my life Nicki, THANK YOU!

Her kind act showed me so much about the human spirit. All of the contemplating I've done about the puzzle of life. Well as I live and learn I've come to the realization no one can possibly have all of the answers for what the future holds. Know it's okay to dream above your circumstances, because the person who is limited in heart and thought is inclined to love that which is limited in life. So don't let the evils of this cruel world seize your happiness and devour your faith. The sun may not shine everyday, but remember it is somewhere shining even when it rains... so never let anyone take away the best part of you, your heart.

Well in closing the greatest thing in the world is to love God... And other, but MOST importantly love yourself.

until next time

Peace
