Dear ATM

Glad you get a laugh. The Hunger strike didn't work out. I went ten days couldn't get a court order to stop them from being able to force feed me. so there was no sense in continuing on. And I'm done with hunger strike's, they don't work unless you have numbers.

And on talking my second wife into that hijacking, that's not the way it happened. I'm going to be writing about it, and if any media wants to do an interview I'll submit to a polygraph. she was a compulsive liar and she had the FBI and local law enforcement looking for people that didn't exist. which pissed them off and that's why they took the plea agreement away from her. she is more screwed up in the head than I am, and we all know how screwed up I am. she was arrested in the parking lot here at UCI for grand theft auto in Oct or Nov. 1997. once we got that straightened out, she bounced a check and it goes on and on. And everything is part of FDOC and police records. Where that garbage ass story she gave, the damn reporter didn't investigate it. Oh well.
