Nicki,

I appreciate you analyzing my blog for what it was, honestly I think it's amazing that you don't let your past experiences change the person you are today. I know for a fact how the past can have a strong hold on the future and yet you remain untainted by it; I mean I know to some degree it's had an effect on you but I haven't come across your type of woman before^{ly} and honestly I'm intrigued!

You being single is hard to believe but please believe I feel your pain, it's unfortunate I would run across a person such as yourself and not be able to make a presentable first impression!

Well nicki I truly hope a male of worth snatches you ~~up~~ up soon, until then don't change stay solid.
