THE IMPACT!

LETS TALK RELIGION.

RELIGION, by my definition is to consistently realign yourself with a set standard of principles. THROUGHOUT history religion and politics have governed law, they go hand in hand. History also shows that the church has been used by the state as a means of controlling the people for ages. It has been said that history is written by the winners of WAR. Does this fact make this said winners account of history accurate? I've asked many people of different religious origins, if you could pass through to the kingdom of heaven, paradise, etc.. without accepting said religion? After explanation the answer in the end is ultimately a "NO". To say this is to say that many righteous good christians, muslims, jews, etc. wont reach this said PARADISE, because of choosing or being born into the wrong religion, which obliates said persons good and righteous deeds, ways and actions. Then what would be the point of living a good healthy, clean, righteous, law-abiding life if you can be potentially be excluded from heaven, paradise, etc. For simply choosing or being born into the wrong religion.

WHO is right? AS a self-proclaimed studier of history and religion, I believe that they all carry a righteous path to discovering the higher self. If one could resist the dogmatic indoctrination carried in religions, and simply x-tract the lessons in wisdom, the world would by far be a much better place. Every one is so against gangs, mobs, organizations, etc. Yet at a very early age we are taught to choose your side as it relates to religion. Separatism is embedded into us sub-consciously through religion. MY thesis on religion is that it disciplines, but it is also limiting to ones thinking and understanding. I suggest for the sake of knowledge to research as much as possible, in search for knowledge, wisdom & understanding of who and/or what GOD and HEAVEN is. People place too much focus on what people believe in, and what they call by name. People should be more focus on the quality of righteous character, which is what I thought the whole point of religion was, to be god like. THIS IS THE IMPACT AND QUESTIONS ARE THAN WELCOMED. PEACE,
