

3wi9

BMS55

Thanks for your comment on my poem about remorse. I believe all of us are works in progress. We each follow the path God sets out for us and gives us the situations we need to grow and mature. Sometimes, the situations we need are painful to experience but in the end, it is all worth it.

May God bless you in all you do.

Harlan