

Wed.
NOV. 28, 2012

Dear London Girl

Greetings, and let me say thank you for your compassion and for speaking out. I really appreciate it.

Some people get off on trying to make others miserable. They spend their whole lives judging and belittling others. They are confused, ignorant of the situation and don't really know where they stand. Hell in one of them, in conflict with the death penalty and these vengeful acts of murder.

Yeah it's a pretty rough existence here in this cell, as I say welcome to my world. The drawing to your right, that's a true picture of what it's like in here. You just deal with it the best way you can.

Anyways thank you again, for your compassion, and positive comments. Please take care of yourself and have a very merry Christmas and a Happy New.

In Peace & Love

Tomie ☺