Hello Ciarra,

This is Crys, I received this blog from you today 11-21-12, dated 11-12-12, so I am replying in earnest. And to say No lady, I am not the Crys whom use to work with you at Health Market's a little over 4 year's ago. At that time I was a simple forklift operator for Excel Logistics in Houston, Texas where I was born and raised. I'm sorry I'm not your well that Crys you had the biggest crush on, though I wish like, which that I was. But give a girl a chance to talk to and get to know you I'm more than certain we'll have a meeting of the minds? but for real Ciarra I'm in need of a friend (smile).

Did you see me, my picture on my blog? I sent one to the company. Well being incarcerated here in Texas, we do not have access to computer's, Texas is cheap, LOL.

Well I'd better let you go, if you write me back I'd be grateful and tell you all about myself and send you a photo of me, okay lady. Take care Truly,

Crys!
