"Blogging for Human Rights Day: Let's talk About Us."

Greetings Comrades! How are you doing? I'm fine at this moment. And grateful to join the Conversation Since I've been in this Criminal injustice System Counting nine years now. "I've witnessed a numerous of failures and, not to many Victories, the recent abuse was an inmate here got refused his breakfast meal. The Security Staff maced this inmate through the cell door food flap about four to five times, because he refused to cuff up and, come out the Cell.

They tried to place him on Property Restriction for some apparent reason. He still wouldn't come out that cell. They then called about (ten officers) with black vest and helmets on with clear shields in front of them. They asked him again to cuff up and, come out that cell" But To No Avail! They rolled the cell door and, rushed in on the inmate and literally beat him half to death. When it was over he couldn't stand straight up. This doesn't only needs to be discussed it needs some action taken upon.

These malicious acts are done to alot of African-American male here only, because we are the largest race incarcerated And, it's covered up majority of the time. Because of no Outside support from Loved ones, or Friends. We all have experienced some type of injustice in settings like this Whether it be Verbal or physical. Let me explain I've never been jumped on physically but, I've been refused my meals in the past it's awful. Had my incoming mail given to other inmates intentionally. On Property Restriction twice that's real humiliation. I had all my personal property thrown away by Security staff because their plain EVIL to inmates for "no reason at all". It's a Cycle inside this poor environment were housed in temporarily but my thing is this When will it Stop?
