Dear Mr. Smith:

I am writing in response to your recent letter regarding various rights of prisoners.

Individuals convicted of felonies are barred from voting while incarcerated or on parole, pursuant to Article II, Sec. 4 of the State Constitution. Once a person is out of prison and off parole he or she may register to vote if he or she is a United States citizen, a resident of California, at least 18 years of age, and not been judged by a court to be mentally incompetent.

Section 201 of the Elections Code generally requires that an individual be registered to vote and eligible to vote for a particular public office in order to run for that office. Thus, if one cannot vote, one cannot run.

I know of no statutory restrictions on buying, selling, or trading real or personal property or investing in stocks and bonds, except for specific restrictions on retaining profits from publications. As to the questions of laptops, I suspect that is an internal rule of the Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation.

Your documentation has been forwarded to Senate staff which deals with correctional issues.

Sincerely,

Greg Schmidt
